

SEND Information Report 2017/18

The governing bodies of maintained schools and maintained nursery schools and the proprietors of academy schools must publish information on their websites about the implementation of the governing body's or the proprietor's policy for pupils with Special Educational Needs and/or Disability (SEND). The information published should be updated annually and any changes to the information occurring during the year should be updated soon as possible. This SEND Information Report has been compiled using the information required as set out in the Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014.

Broad Areas of SEND

The Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice: 0 to 25 years (Statutory guidance for organisations who work with and support children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities), effective September 2014, details four broad areas of need as follows:

1. Communication and interaction
2. Cognition and learning
3. Social, emotional and mental health difficulties
4. Sensory and/or physical needs

For further explanation, please see Appendix A at the end of this information report.

| How we identify special educational learning needs as a school and how we seek the views, opinions and voice of pupils and their parents in planning to meet them. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When pupils have identified SEND before they join us at Berteline's, we work with the people who already know them and use the information they already have available to identify what their specific needs will be in our school setting. • If you tell us you think your child has SEND we will discuss this with you and investigate. We will share with you what we find out and agree next steps with you as to how we can all help your child. • If your child does not appear to be making the same level of progress as other children of their age, we will | | |

| | undertake assessment in school, if appropriate by using other professionals to identify possible barriers to their learning. Parents and carers will be involved at all stages. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We are child and family centred so you will be involved in all decision making about your child’s support. • When we assess SEND we discuss if understanding and behaviour are the same at school and at home; we take this into account and work with you so that we are all helping your child in the same way. • We write class provision maps, which detail support given to children. For some children we will write Individual Support Plans with pupils and parents / carers. Together we will set targets for each term. • We use homework to repeat and practise activities that are new and present an achievable challenge. |
| What extra support we bring in to help us meet SEND: specialist services, external expertise & how we work together. For example health, social care, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We access various external agencies in order to help children access the curriculum and provide additional input for specific needs; speech, language and communication, visual and hearing impairment, behaviour related difficulties, autism spectrum conditions, moderate / severe learning difficulties, health and medical issues. • We are able to access support from local authority services and local special schools who provide outreach. • Support can be requested from occupational therapy and physiotherapy for pupils who require this input and specific resources. • We use the LA’s Educational and Child Psychology service and also provide some private counselling. • We receive support from specialist and professional agencies, e.g. Speech and Language therapists who come in to school to train our staff and to advise on strategies and programmes. We are also able to refer pupils for a period of speech therapy if required. • We have strong links with the Contact and Referral Team (iCART) who will provide support and guidance to schools for families who are experiencing a range of difficulties. • We hold multi-professional Common Assessment Framework (CAF) meetings with parents and the pupil where necessary to review the child’s progress. At these meetings the following types of discussions will take place; what will be put into place in school to make teaching and learning more effective; agree targets for pupil’s achievement; agree how we will work together and what we each will do; agree a review date to explore how well the pupil is doing and whether we are making a difference and what we will do next. This information is recorded to ensure accountability. |

Appendix A

Broad areas of SEND taken from SEND Code of Practice 0-25 effective September 2014

Communication and interaction

6.28 Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. This may be because they have difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is being said to them or they do not understand or use social rules of communication. The profile for every child with SLCN is different and their needs may change over time. They may have difficulty with one, some or all of the different aspects of speech, language or social communication at different times of their lives.

6.29 Children and young people with ASD, including Asperger's Syndrome and Autism, are likely to have particular difficulties with social interaction. They may also experience difficulties with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.

Cognition and Learning

6.30 Support for learning difficulties may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation. Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs, including moderate learning difficulties (MLD), severe learning difficulties (SLD), where children are likely to need support in all areas of the curriculum and associated difficulties with mobility and communication, through to profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD), where children are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment.

6.31 Specific learning difficulties (SpLD), affect one or more specific aspects of learning. This encompasses a range of conditions such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia.

Social, emotional and mental health difficulties

6.32 Children and young people may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties such as anxiety or depression, self-harming, substance misuse, eating disorders or physical symptoms that are medically unexplained. Other children and young people may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.

Sensory and/or physical needs

6.34 Some children and young people require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided. These difficulties can be age related and may fluctuate over time. Many children and young people with vision impairment (VI), hearing impairment (HI) or a multi-sensory impairment (MSI) will require specialist support and/or equipment to access their learning, or habilitation support. Children and young people with an MSI have a combination of vision and hearing difficulties. Information on how to provide services for deafblind children and young people is available through the Social Care for Deafblind Children and Adults guidance published by the Department of Health (see the References section under Chapter 6 for a link).

6.35 Some children and young people with a physical disability (PD) require additional ongoing support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers.
